Cluster of Lights Needed at Hope I-30 Exit for State 4

The Fulton-Hope link of Interstate 30 having been in service the better part of a year it does seem reasonable to ask why no one has done anything about installing a cluster of high-powered lights at a scene which has produced several wrecks and at least two fatalities.

There is a fine set of lights on the eastern side of Hope where State 4 merges with U.S. 67, but no lights at all at the far more dangerous curve which dumps I-30 eastbound traffic abruptly onto State 4.

I suggest state and federal authorities look into this matter. I don't know who foots the bill for electricity for the lights on the eastside 67-4 junction—but if that is worthy of special protection for high-speed motorists then there is a much stronger case for big lights at the I-30-State 4 exit.

The eastside junction is for 60-miles-per-hour traffic—but the junction where there are still no lights handles cars coming off a 75-miles-per-hour road.

The least we can expect from public authorities is an explanation—and possibly a statement that lights for I-30-State 4 are planned eventually but not now.

Economic Progress in GNP Report

By BILL NEIKIRK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government took a final reading of the economy's July-September performance today and found it better than first believed.

The Gross National Product, output of the nation's goods and services, advanced by 3.9 per cent in the third quarter, a full percentage point higher than the government announced almost a month ago in preliminary data.

At the same time, the rate of inflation was lower than originally announced, advancing at a rate of 3 per cent in the third quarter compared with the 3.4 per cent announced earlier.

Despite the revised report, the economy still came across reflecting considerable slack in the July-September period, advancing too slowly to trim the high rate of unemployment significantly.

Economists say a growth rate of at least 4 per cent is needed just to begin making inroads into unemployment.

The revisions in GNP occurred mainly in residential construction and net exports, the Commerce Department said.

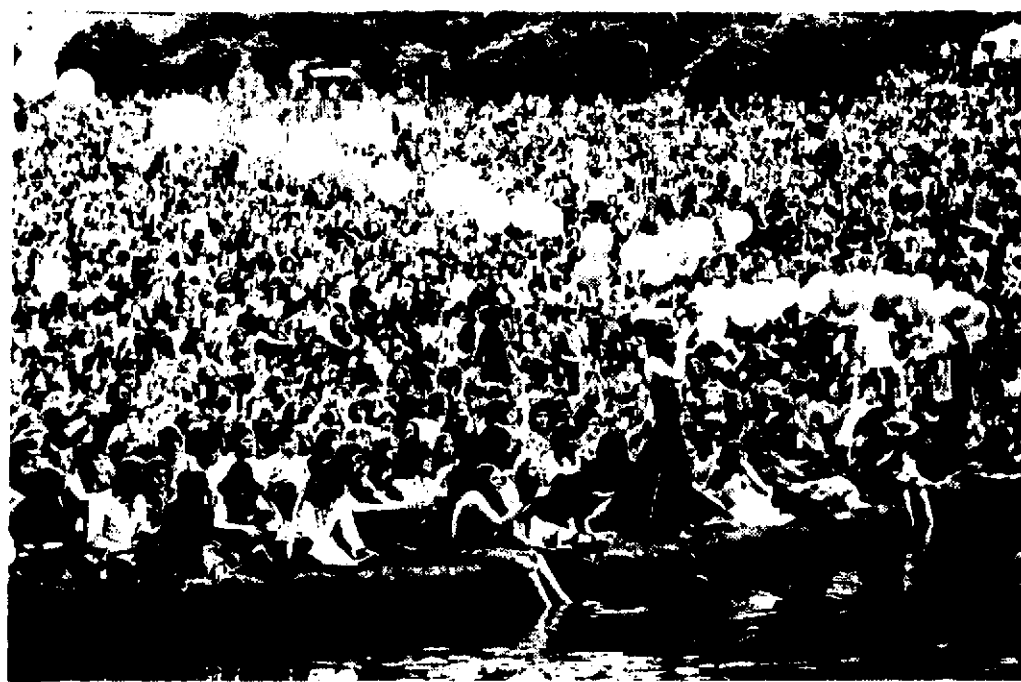

In another report, the department said pre-tax corporate profits showed little change in the third quarter, remaining at the $83.5-billion annual rate that occurred in the second quarter.

GNP reached a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $1,060 billion in the third quarter, a 7 per cent economic advance in terms of current, inflated dollars. But when adjusted for inflation by using 1958 dollars, the gain was 3.9 per cent.

Two Accidents Investigated

Two one-vehicle accidents were investigated early this morning on Highway 29, eleven miles south of Hope. The first accident occurred when a pickup truck driven by Darrell Guillory of Forrest Hill, Louisiana overturned in the road about 7 a.m.

A tractor-truck driven by Michael Rogers of Bradley lost control and ran into a ditch while trying to avoid a car which had slowed for the first accident. Guillory received only minor injuries. Rogers was taken to Memorial Hospital for treatment of a possible back injury. Both drivers were charged with driving too fast for conditions of the road by State Trooper Harvey Fullerton.

ROCK FESTIVALS are not an exclusively American happening. This familiar scene of youth in the mass is on the other side of the Atlantic, at London's Crystal Palace Concert Bowl where some 15,000 heard top European and American groups.

House Rejects Effort to Cut Off War Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cut-off of Indochina war funds is headed for a new Senate fight after defeat in the House and a statement by President Nixon that he will ignore the only war deadline Congress has passed.

In what Nixon called an endorsement of his Vietnam policy, the House rejected 238 to 164 an effort to halt funds for all U.S. Indochina war operations next June 1.

But Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, said Congress should apply "the power of the pursestrings which belong to Congress alone" if the President ignores the policy passed by Congress on ending the war.

Church said he and Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., will seek to amend a House-passed $71-billion defense appropriations bill to withhold Indochina war funds except for money needed to get U.S. forces out.

A White House aide said Nixon considered the House vote "new backing of his policy for gradual disengagement, while keeping alert for the possibility of a negotiated end of the war."

The June 1 war fund cutoff rejected by the House was proposed by Rep. Edward Boland, D-Mass., who called at the only way to end U.S. involvement in the war and call Hanoi's pledge to release American prisoners in exchange for a war deadline.

"This is a put-up-or-shut-up proposition to Hanoi," Boland told the House. "They have been saying they would negotiate if we gave them a cutoff date. Well this is the date."

But Nixon said shortly before the House vote that such restrictions by Congress "hinder rather than assist in the search for a negotiated settlement."

That, he said, was why he would not be bound by Congress' call in a $21.3-billion weapons-authorizing bill for negotiated total U.S. withdrawal "at the earliest practicable date" in exchange for release of U.S. prisoners and an accounting of the missing in action.

The House approved the $71-billion defense appropriation bill 342 to 51 and sent it to the Senate after rejecting efforts to cut F14 swing-wing jet fighter funds and reduce the total bill to this year's $59.5 billion.

Labor to Stay on Board, Plans Fight

MIAMI BEACH (AP) — AFL-CIO President George Meany announced today that President Nixon will speak Friday to the big labor federation's convention, where union leaders sharply attacked new federal wage controls.

Meany, who said Nixon's economic controls threaten the future of the nation's economy, said Nixon would speak to the 1,000 labor delegates at 10:30 a.m.

MIAMI BEACH (AP) — AFL-CIO leaders, charging efforts to harass labor members off President Nixon's Pay Board, reportedly will urge convention delegates representing nearly 14 million union members today to fight federal wage controls in the courts and Congress. But they will keep their men on the Pay Board.

"There is no question that the 10 public and industry members are trying to sandbag the labor members ... it is harassment in an attempt to discourage us and force us to walk out, but we won't," said a source in a private AFL-CIO strategy meeting.

He said the harassment was aimed at blaming labor for any failure of wage controls.

The federation's 35-man executive council reached a consensus decision at the meeting to recommend the legal and legislative fight against wage controls for approval by 1,000 AFL-CIO convention delegates.

"We are going to go legal and legislative—that's the route we are going to take, but we won't get off the board," one source said.

There are five members each for labor, industry and the public on the board.

Freeway Killer Has Six Known Victims

By DON MCLEOD
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Carol Denise Spinks set out in the twilight of April 25 to the neighborhood grocery on an errand for her mother and never returned. She was the first known victim of the "freeway killer."

Angella Denise Barnes was second, Darlene Denise Johnson third, then Brenda Fay Crockett and Nenomoshia Yates. Finally, Brenda Denise Woodard's body was found Tuesday morning beside the highway that was their common link to death.

Each death remains unsolved. The body of the Spinks girl was found a week after she disappeared beside the Anacostia Freeway, the middle link in an expressway span from the lower side of Washington's Beltway, through the city's south-east edge and on toward Baltimore.

Five of the victims lived near the route, and another who lived in the inner city was found dead near the freeway.

There may be more. Another slain Washington area girl was found some distance away near Bowie, Md., but she was last seen in May at a shopping center less than a mile from the spot where the latest body was found.

Similarity is the catchword of the case.

Four of the victims had the middle name Denise. Another had the similar sounding last name Dennis. Two shared the first name Brenda. Like the Spinks girl, two others were on grocery errands when they disappeared. All were walking someplace.

The six girls from the District of Columbia, and whose cases bear the greatest resemblance and probability of a common killer, were black. The other, from suburban Maryland, was white.

At least four of the victims were sexually molested, and the possibility is held open in the other cases. All were young or slight enough of build to be taken for about the same age. They ranged from 10 to 18.

WR Shocked Over Blast at Sarver

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Former Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller, in a letter to Gov. Dale Bumpers, says he was "shocked" by the governor's remark that prison reform under former Correction Commissioner Robert Sarver was "mostly in the form of rhetoric rather than action."

"Such a statement reveals a distressing lack of knowledge about the facts of penal reform in Arkansas and constitutes ... an incomprehensible attack on a man of considerable professional reputation and courage," Rockefeller's letter said.

Bumpers made the remark in an answer to a question from a student when he spoke Monday at the Arkansas Student Congress on Human Relations at the Capitol. A student wanted to know why Sarver was fired.

Rockefeller pointed out that a federal court had found 78 counts "relating to the violation of constitutional rights within the prison system" and "on the day Commissioner Sarver was removed from office by your administration, reforms satisfying all but 11 of the law's requirements had been implemented." The former governor said the remaining 11 counts were related to the hiring of personnel for which no appropriation was provided by the legislature.

No Place for Bowling Balls

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — The Crystal Tissue Co. has resumed operations following a four-day shutdown caused when two bowling balls clogged a line in its waste treatment system.

The bowling balls were removed Tuesday night and operations resumed Wednesday.

"We absolutely have no positive knowledge of how the bowling balls got into the line," Thomas McMurray, vice president of the company, said.

Five Deaths Attributed to Combat

SAIGON (AP) — Five American combat deaths were reported in Vietnam last week, the U.S. Command announced today. It was the sixth consecutive week that the total was eight or less.

The South Vietnamese Command said 219 of its men were killed in action. Last week's toll was 198.

For the second consecutive week and the second time this year, the U.S. Command reported fewer than 25 Americans wounded in action. The total last week was 21, eight more than the week before.

The South Vietnamese command reported 1,063 of the enemy were killed last week, but the U.S. Command reported 900. U.S. spokesmen had no immediate explanation for the discrepancy.

The previous week's enemy death toll was increased from 789 to 790.

The U.S. Command reported 22 Americans died of nonhostile causes.

The allied commands now have reported these total casualties for the war:

American—45,599 killed in action, 302,201 wounded, 9,934 dead from nonhostile causes.

South Vietnamese—135,696 killed, 293,993 wounded.

North Vietnamese and Viet Cong—782,568 killed.

This week's summary was the sixth in a row to list more deaths from nonhostile causes than deaths in combat.

There have been 10 such weeks in the past four months. However "death not as a result of hostile action" is the classification frequently applied to deaths in combat situations in which enemy action is not the immediate cause.

A U.S. spokesman said this was the case with five Americans killed last week when their helicopter crashed due to a mechanical failure while on a mission supporting besieged South Vietnamese troops.

As U.S. involvement in ground combat wanes, aircraft crashes are becoming the biggest killer of Americans.

Tropical Storm Laura Expected to Head North

MIAMI (AP) — Tropical Storm Laura, which dumped 25 inches of rain on Cuba and whipped it with 70-mile-an-hour winds, was stalled 130 miles south of the island's western tip but was expected to head northward today.

Radio Havana reported one man was killed when he fell into a rail-swollen river.

The National Hurricane Center said at 5 a.m. EST the tropical twister was "essentially stationary" over the northwest Caribbean.

But Joe Pelissier, a forecaster at the center, said weather patterns in the area would permit Laura to start moving northward sometime today.

Several ships encountered gale force winds in the extreme northwest Caribbean and Yucatan Channel during the night, the center reported.

Winds of gale force in squalls and occasional heavy rain were forecast for the western end of Cuba today.

"Gales will spread into the extreme southeast Gulf of Mexico later today or tonight," the hurricane center said.

Campaign Issue May Be Tagged to Tax Cut Bill

By JOE HALL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate turned back 49 to 46 a Republican move today to kill a Democratic-backed presidential campaign financing plan which could give major party nominees $20.4 million each in public funds next year.

The key test apparently indicated that the Democrats have the votes to write the plan into the $26-billion tax cut bill. But Republicans indicated they might continue to fight the proposal by offering a series of amendments to it.

The move of Sen. Charles McC. Mathias, R-Md., to kill the plan was beaten with votes of 49 Democrats. It was supported by 43 Republicans and 3 Democrats.

The Senate Wednesday killed an attempt to add a big Social Security increase to the bill, and thus apparently buried the issue for the remainder of the debate.

The amendment, offered by Sen. Edward J. Gurney, R-Fla., would have given all Social Security beneficiaries a 5-per-cent boost as well as providing many other special increases.

But Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., floor manager of the bill, contended these questions should be considered on the House-passed welfare bill which contains similar Social Security provisions. He indicated this bill would reach the Senate floor by next March 1.

Long predicted 52 of the 55 Democrats would support the campaign-fund rider, with only 50 votes needed for adoption. And, he said, as many as three Republicans might back it.

The plan is similar to one written into law in 1966 but which was nullified in 1967.

Money for the fund would be obtained through voluntary check-offs by taxpayers on their income tax returns allocating $1 of their payment for the purpose.

There is a potential of raising $113 million this way in one year, sponsors say.

Each major-party candidate would be entitled to $20.4 million from the fund next year, based on a formula of 15 cents for each person in the United States 18 years old and over.

A third-party nominee would be given about $6.3 million.

A nominee could decide not to use the government funds and rely on private financing. But if he accepted federal money, he would have to agree not to use any funds from other sources.

President Nixon would be faced with a tough decision if the measure becomes law. Democrats insist the GOP plans to spend up to $40 million on Nixon's re-election campaign.

Promises to Clarify Situation

By BROOKS JACKSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — As construction workers learned the wage freeze isn't over for them, the nation's soft-coal miners prepared to present to the Pay Board today their case for a three-year contract that may feel the restraints of federal control.

The Pay Board said Wednesday pay increases in the new miners' contract may be subject to rollbacks if "unreasonably inconsistent" with the 5.5-per-cent standard yearly increase the board has set.

The board called in the United Mine Workers of America and the Bituminous Coal Operators Association for a session today. Their new contract reportedly calls for a 30-per-cent wage hike.

Meanwhile, without public announcement, the Construction Industry Stabilization Committee has issued an order by telegram saying "no economic adjustments provided in collective bargaining agreements in the construction industry that were to take effect on or after Aug. 15 can be placed into effect until further notice from this committee."

Most of the nation's 2.8 million construction workers are unionized. The stabilization committee ruling does not apply to nonunion workers.

The telegram, sent to union and management representatives last Friday, said the matter of ending the freeze for construction unions will be taken up at the stabilization committee's next regular meeting Saturday.

A high-ranking committee staff member Wednesday promised "substantial clarification" of the situation after that meeting.

Meanwhile, the President's Pay Board has allowed everyone but union construction workers to begin collecting, as of last Sunday, raises that fell due during the freeze but were delayed.

Furthermore, such freeze-delayed raises for nonconstruction workers may not be rolled back as were some post-freeze raises in old contracts.

The Pay Board spent another day debating labor's demand for unconditional retroactive pay of wage increases lost in the freeze. The vote was 9 to 5, against labor's position, a spokesman said. Merit pay also was considered, without a decision, he said.

In other economic developments Wednesday:

—The Price Commission gave approval to a 2.5-per-cent price increase requested by American Motors for its 1972 models. A decision was put off on a request from Chrysler for clearance of a 5.9-per-cent hike.

—The Commerce Department said personal income went up $750 million in October, bringing the rate to $872.25 billion on a seasonally adjusted basis. The small gain reflected the impact of President Nixon's freeze.

Youth Rescues Woman 75

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Roger Biever, 20, saw a car plunge down a 20-foot embankment into a 10-foot deep pond. He plunged in, too, and swam to the vehicle, police said.

Delina M. LaLonde, 75, got the door open and kept her head above water until the young man got to her side. Biever helped the woman onto the roof of the car and stayed with her until firemen rescued them.

Nationalist China Official Has Resigned

By ALEC COLLETT
Associated Press Writer

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Victor Hoo, the highest ranking Nationalist Chinese official in the U.N. secretariat, has submitted his resignation five months before his current term is up.

Hoo, an assistant secretary-general since 1965, is 77. He stayed on past the normal retirement age of 60 because China, as a permanent member of the Security Council, was entitled to name one of the secretary-general's principal aides and the Russians were considered certain to challenge any attempt to replace him by another Chinese Nationalist.

The Chinese Communists are expected to nominate Hoo's replacement.

Hoo tendered his resignation to Secretary-General U Thant three days after Communist China was voted into the world body Oct. 25. U.N. officials said he will leave around the first of the year although his contract does not expire until March 31.

Fifty other Chinese nationals are employed by the secretariat, but 45 have permanent contracts as career civil servants. Five on term contracts are expected to give way to Peking's nominees when their contracts expire.

The son of a Chinese diplomat, Hoo was born in Washington, D.C., and spent much of his boyhood in Russia. "Soviet delegates to the United Nations have always been nice to me," he says. "The Communists have the same basic Russian character, and though they try to hide it, it comes through."

Hoo joined his country's foreign service at the age of 24 and that year was sent to Paris for the Versailles peace conference.

The First Christian Church will have a Chili Supper Thursday, November 18, from 5:30 to 7:29 p.m., and the public is invited. Tickets are $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for students.

The Youth Choir of the First United Methodist Church will meet at the Church Thursday, November 18, at 7:30 p.m. to practice for the Rejoice Service to be held Sunday, November 21.

Friday, November 19

The Friday Music Club will meet Friday, November 19 at 3:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. W.E. White with Mrs. Guy Downing and Mrs. Arthur Wimmell, co-hostesses. Miss Mary Anita Laseter will be the program leader.

The Junior Auxiliary Christmas Bazaar will be held at the First National Bank Friday, November 19, from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m.

Saturday, November 20

Game Night at the Hope Country Club will be held Saturday, November 20, at 7 p.m. with Mr. and Mrs. Bob Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Smith, and Mr. and Mrs. Gus Hogan as hosts. Reservations must be made by noon Thursday, November 18. Call 777-4296 or 777-8227.

The Helping Hands WMA of the Unity Baptist Church will have a Bake Sale at Safeway Saturday, November 20, beginning at 9 a.m. with the proceeds to be used for missions.

Monday, November 22

The Memorial Hospital Auxiliary will meet Monday, November 22, at 7:30 p.m. at Memorial Hospital with Mrs. Cecil O'Steen presiding.

College Group Meets

The Associated Women for Harding met Tuesday, November 16 in the home of Mrs. Doyle Shields with 24 members and guests. The Hope High Madrigal Singers under the direction of an AWH member, Mrs. Paul Morgan, presented five numbers.

Mrs. Harold Alexander, president, had charge of the business meeting. Publicity for a catering service was discussed, and plans were made for a Bake Sale in December and for a Progressive Bake Sale among members as money-making projects. An added bonus was the intra-club jewelry sale held after the meeting.

Punch was served with cookies and mints for refreshments.

Yerger Students

The students of Yerger Junior High School are holding a membership drive for the Parent-Teacher Association. The drive is taking the form of a contest with some five hundred students competing. These students are divided into groups according to classes, etc.; their goal being to secure the membership of their own parents. The winning group will be excused from classes on Friday afternoon for an entertaining program and refreshments in the gym.

Fees for membership in the P.T.A. are one dollar per person and two dollars per family.

Tina Ambassador

The Tina Ambassador Sunday School Class of the Garrett Memorial Church met Tuesday night, November 16, in the home of Mrs. Virgie Cunningham. The president, Mrs. Ivy Mitchell, presided over the business meeting and called on Mrs. Wade Warren for the opening prayer. After the business session, Mrs. Clyde Johnson led the group in prayer. Mrs. Alfred Bearden brought a very interesting program on "Bearing Our Crosses." Mrs. Olin Purcell, Mrs. Wade Warren, Mrs. Clifton Booth and Mrs. Ted Purcell also took part in the program. Each demonstrated how we are to bear our crosses by carrying a different size cross.

The Ladies Quartet sang, "Linger at Calvary" followed by the group singing two songs, "Must Jesus Bear the Cross Alone" and "Near the Cross." After the program games were played, and refreshments were served to the fifteen members attending the meeting.

Parties for Miss Morehead

On Friday, November 12, Miss Sharon Morehead, bride-elect of William Phillips, was honored with a miscellaneous shower in the home of Mrs. Charles Ray Morehead, sister-in-law of the bride-elect. The hostesses were Mrs. Reba Morehead, Mrs. Imogene Morehead and Mrs. Eva Jean Morehead. The honoree was presented a kitchen corsage.

Each of the guests wrote her favorite cooking recipe to give to the bride-elect.

The serving table had a blue cloth overlaid with white lace. Cake squares decorated with blue flowers, mints, nuts and frosted punch were served to the thirty guests that were present. Many lovely and useful gifts were presented to the wedding couple.

The bride-elect was also honored with a miscellaneous shower in Little Rock in the home of Mrs. Helen House.

TOPS Club Meets

The Hopeful TOPS Club met Monday, November 15 at the Douglas Building with 21 members and 2 new members. The minutes were read by Margaret Polk, and Side 1 won the Turkey Feather contest. For the program Karen Simpson told "How Sea Shell Helped Me Lose Weight." She also won the Ha-Ha Box and was crowned Queen of the Week. President Doris Walden invites anyone interested in losing weight to come to the TOPS Club any Monday night at 7 p.m. in the Douglas Building.

Coming, Going

Mrs. Garrett Story, Sr. had as weekend guests Mr. and Mrs. Garrett Story, Jr., Mrs. Roy Elom, Harriet Ann Story and Russell Story, all of Greenville, Texas.

Mrs. Gaston Fulmer of Little Rock has returned home after visiting her twin sister, Mrs. Guy Card, and other relatives.

Mrs. Pauline B. Walker came home Sunday from Dallas and Arlington, Tex., where she met her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Robert C. Walker, and children of Lubbock, Tex. The Walker family is leaving soon for Beirut, Lebanon, to join Mr. Walker, who is associated with American University of Beirut.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Ron Campbell, Little Rock, announce the birth of a girl at the Little Rock Air Force Base Hospital on November 9. She has been named Kelli Rae. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Allen Campbell of Hartland, Wisc., and Mr. and Mrs. L.J. Purcell of Hope. Mrs. Ron Campbell is the former Diane Purcell.

Mr. and Mrs. Wendall P. Murry of Texarkana announce the birth of a baby boy Tuesday, November 16 at the Hempstead County Memorial Hospital. He has been named Gil. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Robertson of Hope and Mr. and Mrs. Perry Murry of Emmet. Great-grandmothers are Mrs. Virgie Robertson of Hope and Mrs. Vern Boyd, Sr. of Emmet.

MacBeth was visiting his friends the witches again. "It is great to be king of Scotland, but I would give anything just to beat MacDuff at bridge."

"Your wish will be granted tonight," was the reply. "Just play the cards in the right order and you will wrap up seven spades on the last hand tonight. Here it is. Study it well and remember that the devil himself will have it dealt for you."

If any of you readers don't believe that seven spades makes we can't blame you. It looks as if there is a sure trump trick against declarer but it vanishes with the aid of the devil.

The play starts with the ace of hearts and a heart ruff. After that start South must time things so that he ruffs dummy's last two hearts in his hand and a diamond in dummy and cashes three clubs to wind up in his own hand.

At this point he is down to two trumps and a low diamond. East holds two trumps and the high diamond; dummy two trumps and a club.

South leads his last diamond and the devil's work has been done. If West ruffs low, South overruffs with dummy's 10 and the last two tricks fall to the top trumps. If West ruffs high South overruffs and finesses successfully against East's jack.

As for the bidding what would you do if you knew you could make a grand slam?

THE GENERATION RAP

—by Helen and Sue Bottel

(Got a problem? Or a subject for discussion, two-generation style? Direct your questions to either Sue or Helen Bottel—or both, if you want a combination mother-daughter answer)

More About Witchcraft

Dear Helen and Sue:
I'm not putting you on. Please print this as I have to know what I should do.

About five months ago my boy friend just left me—no warning, no fight. We were talking about marriage, and then he never showed again. Soon he was going with a real dog whom he'd always disliked before.

Recently I was talking to a friend and what she said left me cold as ice. She told me this "dog" confessed to her that she'd gone to a "wicca" (witch) and had a spell cast on my boy friend. That's why he "fell" for her.

Well, I decided two could play that game—though I never believed in spells before. So I went to a witch this friend recommended, and sure enough she told me I could get my guy back for $10.00.

My question is, how would I be sure that the spell would stay broken? I might have to keep on paying out money every time the "dog" got her witchcraft working.—DOUBTFUL
P.S. I'm really not sure how much he's worth, as I've met another boy now.

Dear Doubtful:
Concentrate on the new boy and save your money. In spite of all the witch and warlock talk going down these days, magic spells work about as often as eating bread crumbs produces curly hair. . . or burying a dead toad takes off warts.—SUE

Dear D.:
The "hex" which the "dog" used on your boy friend was spelled with an "s." And that's not magic, though he probably thought so.

If you're "really not sure how much he's worth," you've outgrown him. I'd suggest you outgrow witches too!—HELEN

Dear "Rap":
I was walking by this public telephone at a shopping center, when it started ringing. Who can ignore a phone ring? So I answered it. Turns out this fellow had a "wrong number," but a real nice voice, so we got to talking and he asked me to "meet" his vocie there again the next day, when he'd call the same public phone at exactly 4 p.m.

So I did. He confessed he was just calling the number to see who'd answer.

It's been a week now, and I've talked to him this way three times. He's told me a lot about himself, and we seem to like the same things, but I'm afraid to give him my name or real phone number. Yet I'm fascinated. He sounds wonderful and wants to meet me, but how can I be sure? Would you take the chance, Sue, if you were me?—TEMPTED

Dear Tempted:

Why not? Public telephone roulette is a fun game and sometimes you even get a winner! To be on the safe side, have him meet you at a public place, with a friend, so you wouldn't really be stuck with him if he was a duf.—SUE

Dear Tempted:
And remember reality may not measure up to mystery.—HELEN

Dear Helen and Sue:
I had my baby in September. The father broke up with me when he knew I was pregnant, but now he wants to take up where he left off. My folks won't let me see him. Dad says he's no good and would never even buy the baby a can of milk.

They're taking care of me and my son until I finish school. My boy friend is a dropout, with no job. I feel sorry for him, 'cause he's always been a loser. Now he can't even be a father. Doesn't my Dad realize he needs me?—N.A.

Dear N.:
Your Dad remembers what you seem to forget: this boy copped out when YOU needed HIM! He doesn't deserve your pity—or your love.—HELEN

Dear N.A.:
You feel sorry for him because he's a loser. Do you really think your love would make him a winner? Don't strike out twice!—SUE

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — In one of those unfortunate coincidences that turn up frequently in television, "The Carol Burnett Show" on CBS Wednesday came up with a miniversion of "Dames at Sea," which had been on view earlier this week as an NBC special.

Both were efforts to poke fun at the 1930 musical movies, and the Burnett show worked no better than the more elaborate and longer production starring Ann-Margret.

Carol was in the role Ann-Margret played earlier—the innocent young dancer who steps into the star's role. Nanette Fabray was the temperamental star with the same nasty disposition that Ann Miller displayed earlier, although she didn't have any dancing numbers. Of course, with Carol and Nanette working together, the comedy was broader and the sound effects—breaking bones and other hilarious noises—were louder.

Like those television commercials "The Carol Burnett Show" is so fond of making jokes about, the old movies are so silly they can't be improved upon as camp and comedy.

I. I. Columbus of NBC's "Mystery Theatre" was busy creeping around Wednesday night getting evidence against an art critic who had knocked off his rich uncle to get hold of his collection of paintings. Once again the show's format, which permits the viewer to know the killer from the beginning, worked very satisfactorily.

Ross Martin, looking considerably more portly than in his "Wild, Wild West" days, was particularly effective as the arrogant, effete villain. Peter Falk, as the humble, meaching and shrewd cop, may be an off-beat character, but the character doesn't wear as well as some of television's better tailored and more direct sleuths.

While "Columbo" programs are puzzles that the viewer watches being solved, "Mannix," another popular detective tale that follows on another channel—CBS—specializes in

Hoopie: Yale to Whip Harvard, Buckeyes To Beat Wolves, Pitt to Edge Penn State

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
Upset Champion

Egad, friends, it's that weekend again! That Saturday when Harvard and Yale—Boola-Boola—meet in the 83rd renewal of THE GAME! When Ohio State and Michigan joust for the 63th time on the gridiron! When those great intrastate rivals Pittsburgh and Penn State stage the 71st renewal of their autumn classic!

Would that your correspondent were endowed with supernatural powers that would allow him to take in all three of these classics. But, alas, being a mere mortal, and under much pressure in my business dealings, I shall have to abstain from all three. (Ed. Note: Egad! He admits he's human. We'd never have believed it!)

In THE GAME at New Haven, my beloved Old Blue will repel the courageous Harvard lads, 29-22, to make the singing all the merrier down at Morey's—har-rumph!

And now, kiddies, hold on to your seats! The Hoopie System has the season's most amazing upsets for you. Yes, dear readers, Woody Hayes' Buckeye Boys, suffering through one of their most dismal seasons, will turn it all around Saturday as they deal the mighty (10-0) Michigan Wolverines their first defeat of the season 20-18, at Ann Arbor. The 100,000 fans at Ann Arbor are in for a real barn burner, to coin a phrase!

And equally as amazing will be Pittsburgh's conquest of invading Penn State. The Nittany Lions, winners of 10 straight this year and 15 in a row over the past two years, will be the victims of some last quarter heroics as the

The Old Boy Himself

Pitt Panthers pull out a stunning 24-20 victory—kaff kaff!

Two other contests worthy of special note match all-conquering Toledo and Mid-America for Kent State at Toledo, and Notre Dame vs. Louisiana State in a nocturnal affair at Baton Rouge.

The Chuck Ealey-led Rockets will run their unbeaten string to 35 by whipping the Kent Staters, 37-10, and Ara Parseghian's Irish team, out to prove it rates a bowl bid, will prevail over rugged LSU, 24-14, in a thrilling crowd pleaser—har-rumph!

Huge Crowd to See Rams Over Hapless Foe and 49ers

By RON ROACH
Associated Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — While Coach Tommy Prothro of the Los Angeles Rams worries about how he'll defend wide receiver Gene Washington of the San Francisco 49ers, Bill Nicholas relaxes. He's already mapped his strategy for Sunday's big game.

Bill Nicholas?
He's the Memorial Coliseum general manager and his plan is double coverage, not on Washington but on the Coliseum.

Nicholas is busy preparing for the year's biggest football weekend at the Coliseum—the UCLA-Southern California game on Saturday and the 49ers-Rams National Football League match Sunday.

Instead of the normal 50-man cleanup crew, he's assigning about 110 to rid the Coliseum of debris from the college game in time for the pro game.

On Saturday, he expects a minimum of 65,000 fans with up to a capacity of 80,000 "if it's a nice day." The 49ers-Rams game is an 80,000-seat sellout.

"We'll have the place cleaned up by 9 a.m. on Sunday," Nicholas said. "It's even easier this year. Last year the USC-UCLA game started at 5 p.m. and we only had 12 hours—9 to 9."

The USC-UCLA game begins at 12:50 p.m., giving Nicholas an extra three or four hours.

Besides sweeping up and hauling away countless paper cups and hot dog wrappers, Nicholas has to call in a crane to put up 2,600-seat bleachers for the pro game.

Fortunately, the college game comes before the pro tilt, he said, because pro fans "eat more and make more of a mess. Concession sales are 50 per cent higher per capita at Rams games."

He hopes the weather bureau's forecast for clear skies holds up. While rain would make the turf slippery for football players, a downpour would bring havoc to Nicholas' team of workers.

"If we catch a shower, it just makes everything that much harder," he said. "The fans leave behind slickers, canvas, newspapers—anything they use to keep dry."

One of Nicholas' problems—the booing fan who leaves his bottle whole or in pieces—is still evident but a somewhat diminished headache.

Ali in Decision

By MICHAEL A. LUTZ
Associated Press Sports Writer
HOUSTON (AP) — There's one thing Jurgen Blin can learn from Muhammad Ali's 12-round unanimous decision over a weary Buster Mathis in the Astrodome Wednesday night—watch for the "finger-on" punch.

That's what Ali says he used to deck Mathis four times in the 11th and 12th rounds and also to keep from hurting Mathis for life.

Blin might also look out for the punch. Right after the fight, Ali announced he would fight Blin Dec. 18 in Zurich, Switzerland.

"If a referee is too dumb to stop a fight when a man is so far gone he just can't do anything, then I'm not going to take the responsibility for maybe hurting him for life," Ali said.

"I thought the fight should have been stopped in the 12th when he was so unconscious he couldn't fight off those little jabs."

"You can't say I was wrong," Ali said. "Yes, I deliberately tried not to kill him. When a fighter gets hurt in the ring everybody starts shouting for something to be done about boxing."

"Now when I don't knock someone out, everybody starts yelling 'knock him out.' Knock him out!"

Ali was in control throughout the fight. Mathis, trying to make a ring comeback after a 24-year layoff, fought well in flurries in the early rounds but he got progressively more weary as the fight went on.

By the 11th, Ali was landing stinging jabs regularly and suddenly a short right put Mathis down. Mathis took a six count and then went down again, but was saved by the bell.

"I'm a religious man," Ali said. "I don't believe in knocking a man in front of his wife and child just to please a few people. If I'm good enough to know when he can't win the fight and just keep him from getting me, then you can't say I'm wrong."

It was a bitter defeat for Mathis, who lost for the third time in 29 fights. Before the fight, Mathis said he didn't fear losing, only having people say, "I told you so."

Mathis came out for the 12th round but he was in trouble almost immediately. He went down from light punches early in the round but was up at the count of seven. He went down a second time, but this time it was as much from sheer exhaustion as Ali's light punches.

Mathis wept in his dressing room prior to talking with newsmen. "I tried, I tried," Mathis said.

"Hold up your head, you should be proud," Mathis' handlers said.

Mathis got his biggest cheers in the seventh round when he matched Ali's shuffle. It looked like a dance. "I thought I had the fight won at that point," Mathis said in explanation for copying Ali.

Rockets Upset Philadelphia in NBA Action

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Houston's eight-game losing streak is over in the NBA.

The Rockets wiped out an 11-point deficit in the second half and upset Philadelphia 118-112 in the National Basketball Association Wednesday night.

Elvin Hayes, the Big E, Calvin Murphy and Stu Lantz combined for 67 points as the Rockets snapped their losing streak the hard way—on the road.

Hayes scored 33 points, 21 of them in the second half. Murphy had 31 and Lantz 23, of which 19 came in the last quarter. It was Lantz's basket with 6:33 left that put the Rockets ahead for good at 96-96. Billy Cunningham was high for the

Delaware Is Leading Small College Poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Delaware, which regained its lead in The Associated Press college division football poll by the narrowest of margins last week, widened the gap over McNeese State today.

The Blue Hens, who romped over Boston U. 54-0 Saturday, collected 12 first-place votes from a panel of sports writers and broadcasters for 274 points, 14 more than McNeese State, 31-0 victors over Southeastern Louisiana.

Both once-beaten Delaware and undefeated but once-tied McNeese State have one more game before the final standings are tallied next week, but No. 3 Eastern Michigan finished the season 7-4-2 with a 35-2 trouncing of South Dakota State.

There were no newcomers to the Top Ten, but all except the top three teams were shaken up.

Tennessee State, which shared the other two top votes with Eastern Michigan, moved up from sixth to fourth after a 54-7 triumph over Superior, Wis. Louisiana Tech slipped one place to No. 5 after a 24-20 loss to Southern Mississippi and Boise State, fifth last week, fell to a tie with Akron for No. 7 after suffering a 21-17 setback by Idaho State.

Akron was boosted from No. 10 with a 34-14 victory over Indiana, Pa., and Western Kentucky moved up one notch to No. 6 with a 41-0 rout of Butler.

North Dakota, which wound up the season with a 17-17 tie with Nevada-Las Vegas, and North Dakota State, which finished play a week earlier, slipped one place each to take over No. 9 and No. 10.

The Top 10 teams in The Associated Press College Division Football Poll with records and points based on a 20-18-16-14-12-10-9-8-7-6 basis:

1. Delaware 8-1 274
2. McNeese State 8-0-1 260
3. Eastern Michigan 7-0-2 251
4. Tennessee State 8-1 166

10. North Dakota State 7-2 62

Pinder Clinches Second Win Over Vasquez

NEW YORK (AP) — Enrique Pinder of Panama couldn't adapt to the cold weather here and spent most of the past week in a warm hotel room. Then he went to Madison Square Garden Wednesday night and made things hot for Davey Vasquez for the second time within two months.

Pinder, employing the polished moves of a classic boxer, pounded out a unanimous 12-round decision over Vasquez in a bout billed for the North American bantamweight title Pinder wrested from Vasquez here Oct. 1.

"I was in better shape than the first time we fought," said Pinder, ranked No. 8 among the world's 118-pounders by the World Boxing Association. "The first time we fought I didn't know him and had to try different styles. This time I made him fight my fight."

76ers with 29 points.

Boston routed Phoenix 140-121, Baltimore downed Cincinnati 113-103 and Seattle defeated Atlanta 112-104 in the other NBA games scheduled.

Pistol Pete Maravich, who hasn't played since the opening of the season because of mononucleosis, made his season debut with Atlanta and scored 18 points in a losing cause in his 26 minutes of action. Walt Bellamy was high for the Hawks with 28 while Spencer Haywood led the SuperSonics with 23.

Jack Marin, with 24, and Dave Stallworth, with 23, combined for 47 points in leading the Bullets over the Royals.

Nate Archibald scored 25 to pace the losers.

Bluebonnet for Houston, Colorado

HOUSTON (AP) — Colorado will face the University of Houston in the Dec. 31 Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl at the Astrodome, the Houston Post said in its Thursday editions.

The newspaper said the teams will be extended invitations Saturday afternoon following the Colorado-Air Force game and before the Houston-Miami game.

Earliest bids may be extended at 6 p.m. EST Saturday.

Both teams would be appearing in the 13-year-old bowl for the second time. Colorado defeated Miami of Florida 31-21, in 1967 and Houston whipped Auburn 36-7 in 1969.

The Cougars, 7-2, wind up their season with consecutive home appearances against Miami and Utah, Colorado, 8-2, concludes its season Saturday afternoon with the Air Force Academy.

Final Japanese Game Rained Out

TOKYO (AP) — Rain today forced a two-day postponement of the Baltimore Orioles' final game of an exhibition baseball series in Japan.

The Orioles, the American League champions, will tangle with the Yomiuri Giants, the Japanese champions, in the final game Saturday.

Saban Bows Out as Coach of Denver Broncos

By JOHN MOSSMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

DENVER (AP) — Jerry Smith, 41-year-old offensive line coach of the Denver Broncos who became head coach Wednesday, said he "welcomes pressure" but admitted he was "flabbergasted" when asked to take over the reins from Lou Saban.

Smith, in his first year as a Bronco coach, succeeded Saban as field commander in a move that stunned players and other members of Denver's National Football League organization.

Saban will remain as general manager but stressed that Smith will be in complete charge of the team for the remaining five games of the season.

He indicated management will decide on a permanent coach at the end of the season, but said he was certain Smith would be in the running for that post.

Smith served under Saban as defensive line and linebacker coach of the Boston Patriots in

Predictions in Waning High School Football

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — There are only 10 high school football games in the state this week, but eight will have an impact on a conference title or state championship.

Fort Smith Northside has clinched at least a tie for the AAAA championship, but Little Rock Catholic can share the title by beating North Little Rock Northeast Friday night and North Little Rock on Thanksgiving.

Little Rock McClellan has a one-game lead over Forrest City in the AAA-East race and the two teams meet Friday night for the conference championship and a spot in the Class AAA playoffs against Hot Springs.

Some say Rogers will bene-

Ferguson Has Started Throwing

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas quarterback Joe Ferguson began throwing the football again Wednesday for the first time since he suffered a bruised shoulder last week in the SMU game.

Coach Frank Broyles said Ferguson threw some short passes, but did not strain his shoulder by throwing either long or hard.

The Razorbacks had to cut their practice short Wednesday because a cloud cover caused it to get dark earlier than usual.

Broyles said he was pleased with the workout and added it was a good day of learning for the Porkers.

This week's homecoming captains for the Texas Tech game are center Bill Carter, offensive tackle Tom Mabry, defensive end Ronnie Jones and defensive halfback David Hogue.

Results in Independent Cage Play

Here are the results of this week's games at Guernsey Gym: In the first game at 7:00 p.m. ZECO downed Young Amer. Homes by the score of 94 to 92. C. Kidd and D. Townsend were the leading scorers for the winners with 26 and 24. Muldrew had 30, and McBride sank 26 for the losers. In the second game at 9:00 p.m. Perry's Truck Stop defeated Dairy Queen 106 to 78. Leading scorers for Perry's were Loe and Robinson with 29 and 23 respectively. Griffin pumped in 21, and McGill shot 17 for the losers.

Next games are scheduled for Thursday, Nov. 18, when Perry's plays ZECO at 7:00 o'clock, and at 9:00 p.m. Butane Gas takes on Dairy Queen.

Golf Tournaments Require More Cash

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP) — In this day of burgeoning purses on the pro golf tour, with tournament after tournament putting up more and more money in hopes of attracting the top stars, the Azalea Open is content to remain a $35,000 satellite.

Asked if there is any thought of going to major tournament status with a $100,000 purse, Bunny Hines, president of the sponsoring golf association, replied:

"We've never considered we have anything but a major tournament."

But the fact remains that the Azalea, which played the first round of its 23rd consecutive tournament today and is one of the oldest events on the pro swing, is less than a major attraction.

The field of 147 players, most of them second-line tourists and those fighting for a spot on the year's top 60 money winners—which would give them an exemption for the 1972 tour—are competing for little more than the $7,000 first prize.

The winner does not get a year's exemption as does the winner of a $100,000 event.

The winner does not get in the Masters, as does a major tournament winner.

Nor does he automatically qualify for a spot in the Tournament of Champions or the Match Play Championship or invitational tournaments.

He gets $7,000, as compared with $20,000-$50,000 in other tournaments.

"We started as a $10,000 tournament in 1948," Hines said, "and went up to $60,000 last year. And we've got a better field this year than we did last."

But Tom Weiskopf, a surprise

Cougars Edge Past Denver for Fifth Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Big Mac and The Hound are making the Carolina Cougars a tough team to beat in the American Basketball Association.

Big Mac, known as Jim McDaniels, and Ted "The Hound" McClain, combined for 46 points to lead Carolina over Denver 113-101 Wednesday night for their fifth victory in six games.

McClain came off the bench and got 10 points in the second quarter. Larry Miller added 21 for the Cougars, including 10 in the third period. Ralph Simpson topped the Rockets with 27.

Utah edged Indiana 113-111, Pittsburgh shaded the New York Nets 122-121 and Kentucky humbled Virginia 117-112 in the other ABA games carded.

Two free throws by Zelmo Beaty with seven seconds left gave Utah its squeaker over Indiana. Beaty and James Jones shared high scoring honors for the Stars with 23 points each. Rick Mount of the Pacers was high for the game with 30.

John Brisker's fourth three-point field goal broke a 113-115 tie with 55 seconds left and put the Cougars ahead of the Nets for good. Brisker was high for the game with 34 points. Rick Barry led the Nets with 32.

Artis Gilmore scored 31 points to lead Kentucky over Virginia and into first place in the ABA East.

entrant, is the only one of the top 25 money winners this season on hand. And there are only five of the top 50, including Deane Beman, who along with Weiskopf, were the pretournament favorites.

"We had tentative commitments from some others, just tentative, but they decided not to play after they'd won enough to be assured of an exemption next year," Hines said.

Most of the better players in the field come from the group fighting for a spot in the top 60.

Those include Dick Lotz, Canadian George Knudson, R.H. Sikes, Jim Jamieson, Jim Colbert, Bob Smith and Bert Green.

ABA-NBA Merger Held Up by Senate Hearing

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
DALLAS (AP) — Jack Dolph believes what U.S. Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., acting chairman of the Senate judiciary subcommittee on antitrust and monopoly, doesn't know about professional sports he can be taught.

Dolph, commissioner of the American Basketball Association which has a merger agreement with the National Basketball Association, said Ervin was "dictated by honest motives but just doesn't understand the basic of professional sports. We are trying to teach him."

He said witnesses are called before the subcommittee and given a "20 minute dissertation by Ervin who then says 'Isn't that true, sir,' at the end."

Dolph said it's basically simple what will happen if there isn't a merger such as the one between the National and American Football Leagues.

"If the merger doesn't come about there will be some vacancies in both leagues," Dolph said. "It will be just too big of a financial strain. I may be commissioner of a four or five team league."

Dolph was in Dallas Wednesday for a scheduled two-day meeting of ABA officials. However, lack of action by the subcommittee in Washington forced Dolph to cut the meeting to a half-day.

He said it appeared it could be as late as February before the bill for the merger reaches the Senate floor for a vote. Then it would have to go to the House for approval.

"We could move the common draft back if we saw that merger legislation was imminent, but the odds are against that quick of an approval," Dolph said.

He predicted "the merger will happen" but added "if it doesn't there will be a lot of franchises fold."

Black Hawks Lead in NHL West Division

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Chicago Black Hawks' goalie Tony Esposito keeps firing blanks in an effort to catch up to high-scoring brother, Phil, in publicity ... and it's those blanks that may get him the publicity.

Tony posted his third shutout of the National Hockey League season Wednesday night, stopping Vancouver 3-0 as the Black Hawks won their 14th game in 18 starts and increased their West Division lead to four points over idle Minnesota.

Ron Ellis' two goals led Toronto to a 5-1 victory over Los Angeles in the only other NHL game.

Esposito's third shutout—tops in the league—lowered Chicago's goals against average to 1.56—best in the NHL. Esposito, whose brother Phil of Boston currently leads the league in scoring, and second-string goalie Gary Smith have allowed only 28 goals in 18 games.

The Chicago tandem has permitted just four goals in eight games on home ice.

The Black Hawks scored once in each period, with Pit Martin getting the first goal, followed by Stan Mikita and Dennis Hull.

Ellis' two goals for Toronto came in the second period, bolstering the Maple Leafs' lead to 4-0 against the last-place Kings of the West Division. He also set up Paul Henderson's goal in the final period.

Carty Reported in Good Shape

ATLANTA (AP) — Doctors at an Atlanta hospital said Atlanta Braves outfielder Rico Carty's leg was in good shape after they removed a pin from the injured limb Wednesday.

Carty injured the leg playing winter baseball in the Dominican Republic last year and missed the 1971 baseball season.

Vikings Take

Lead as NC Top

Defensive Team

NEW YORK (AP) — The Minnesota Vikings, who built an impenetrable wall to blank Green Bay 3-0 last Sunday, slipped past Washington to take the lead as the National Conference's top defensive team, according to figures released today by the National Football League.

But the three other leaders—Dallas as the No. 1 NFC offensive club and, in the American Conference, Chicago with the best offense and Baltimore first on defense—retained their positions.

The Vikings, also No. 1 in stopping the pass, limited the Packers to 56 aerial yards and 301 overall for a nine-week total of 2,164 yards allowed, just four less than the Redskins, who yielded 385 yards in their 16-15 loss to Chicago. Dallas is best in the conference in halting the opposition ground game.

The Colts of the AFC, however, remain far and away the stingiest team in the league against both the rush and pass and have permitted only 1,620 total yards, a whopping 650 fewer than AFC runner-up Kansas City.

The Cowboys, also tops in passing in the National Conference, piled up 548 yards in their 20-7 victory over Philadelphia to raise their season total to 3,275—231 yards ahead of Detroit. The Lions lead in NFC rushing.

The Chargers, who also lead all AFC teams in passing, struck for 389 yards Monday night in their last-second 20-17 triumph over St. Louis, bringing their overall total to 3,153, 125 more than runner-up Miami, which heads the list of AFC ground gainers.

STEADY WINNERS

The longest streak without a loss in pro football history is 24 games. Canton did it in 1922-23 and the Chicago Bears equaled the feat in 1941-43.

Pro Football Was Road to Success for Colt Alumni

THE 1958 BALTIMORE COLTS won the National Football League championship. Left, when Alan Ameche plunged one yard for the touchdown that beat the New York Giants, 23-17, in sudden death overtime. Many members of that Colt team returned to Baltimore Memorial Stadium this year, right, for the Colt alumni homecoming.

By MURRAY OLDERMAN

BALTIMORE, Md. — (NEA) — It's gone. The pulsing excitement he felt before the game. The flush of pride later because people recognized him and told him how good he was.

He's retired now. He's full in the cheeks and generally paunchy, and his eyes show the puffiness of good living. He's a former professional football player. The Baltimore Colts were his team. The only connection with his playing days now is membership in the Baltimore Colts Alumni Association. When he gets together with his old buddies, once a year, a little of the old strut returns to his stride.

Today, however, he is a banker and a doctor and a lawyer and a construction worker. He's getting along. To find out how well, Newspaper Enterprise Association has conducted a survey of former Colt players to find what happens to men when they retire from professional football.

It revealed the following, enlightening facts:

• The ex-Colt today makes, on an average, $9,750.60 more annually than his peak salary as a player! (There should be a qualifying note that many played before the current escalation of player contracts.)

• Of the poll's cross-section of 49 former players, all are married. All have children—an average of 3.2 per family. Alan Ameche and Gary Kerkorian, backfield stars of the mid-1950s, are the champs, with five children each.

• All but two, or 96 per cent, received their college degrees. Fourteen per cent have also added master's degrees in graduate study. One, former halfback Mike Sommer, is a doctor of medicine.

• They now live in 17 different states. Maryland leads with 29 per cent of the former Colts among its permanent residents, followed by Pennsylvania with 12 per cent.

Their jobs run from a corporation president (former end Jerry Richardson) to a college dean of students (former halfback George Taliaferro) to a cotton and grain farmer (former quarterback Fred Enke). Only seven are still in football, among them head coach Alex Agase of Northwestern. Twenty-two per cent have risen to executive positions in their companies. Fourteen per cent have their own businesses.

Their scale of income in 1970 ran from a low of $3,200 to more than $100,000. The median figure was $26,913.16. This is how it broke down by percentile:

Salary Range, Yearly	Per Cent
$100,000 plus	4
$50-100,000	12
$40-50,000	6
$30-40,000	16
$20-30,000	28
$10-20,000	32
Under $10,000	2

The above takes into account only those who revealed their incomes and would be considerably higher if it included a small group of former Colts who have become millionaires since their retirement—among them, all-time all-pro defensive end Gino Marchetti and Ameche, founders and major stockholders of Gino's, Inc., which has food franchises strung up and down the East coast. Another former great Colt lineman averages $160,000 annual income in the liquor business.

For contrast, the Colt alumni had a top average salary of $17,162.56 annually as players. The figure is brought down by the fact, already noted, that such men as Agase in the early 1950s never made more than $7,000, and even on the championship teams of 1958-59, there were many players under $10,000. (A recently published survey by the National League Players Association revealed that the current Colts are now the best paid team in football, with an average salary of $31,300 per man.)

The breakdown of top player salaries for the Colt alumni is as follows:

Salary Range, Yearly	Per Cent
$7-10,000	30
$10-20,000	38
$20-30,000	20
$30,000 plus	12

These figures do not include income made off the field. When Alex Hawkins, a blithe spirit who once led the Colts' special teams as "Capt. Who," was asked if he felt he benefited from pro football, he responded, "Are you serious? The last year I played, I made $47,000 altogether. Last year, I made $3,200." Alex who listed his occupation as "show biz," has made a pecuniary comeback in 1971 as a CBS-TV color man for NFL games.)

— To Don Colo, who started his career as a defensive tackle with the original, pathetic Baltimore Colts in 1950, professional football "provided a most delightful interim between college and one's life work."

A man remembers most the little things. So it was that traveling with the Colts when they reached the status of world champions in 1958-59 meant a sharing of moments and emotions.

They were a tough crew, and only one of them, quarterback John Unitas, still survives as an active player.

Every Sunday night they went out after a game—most of them—and drank and raised hell. Not Raymond Berry, the great, monastic offensive end. But one defensive back who was otherwise completely straight would go to bed with a couple of six-packs of beer.

Today, they are all sedate family men approaching middle age, and NEA has polled them to find out how they've made the transition from football warring to subdued living, how they're doing materially, what they think of their professional football experience.

"What I remember most," answered Milt Davis, a slim, esthetic defensive back of the 1950s who is now a biology professor at Los Angeles City College, "is the hard work each week in practice by the men who were our stars—Unitas, Berry, Lenny Moore—which was so often taken for granted by spectators and sports writers."

There were other memories.

For Jim Welch, a defensive back of the title days: "The camaraderie of the team and life-long friendships. The tremendous enthusiasm and excitement generated by the fans and the competitive spirit in which the games were played."

For Mike Sommer, a spare ball carrier who became a doctor: "Having a 4-3 record in 1959 after winning the '58 championship and at that point the players getting together to talk about how we must win the rest. And we did."

There are other memories, not so sweet.

George Taliaferro, dean of students at Morgan State College and a black running back at a time blacks were rare, said, "What I remember is being denied a room in the Lord Baltimore Hotel in 1953, and the institutionalized injustices I had to suffer in order to play, not so much from players but from coaches and management personnel."

Jesse Thomas, a defensive back who is the track coach at Morgan State, decried "being ridiculed by the fans and my own teammates (unjustly)."

Yet George Radosevich, a high school teacher and coach who was a center in the mid-1950s, said, "This organization was the forerunner of the humanistic approach to player and management relations. The success of many of the Colt alumni is directly related to the guiding hand extended by the Colt management."

The Colts Alumni is a viable organization. Last year, Carroll Rosenbloom, the team's owner, flew the former players en masse to a game in San Diego. This year they were brought into Baltimore for their annual weekend gala, including a dinner-dance at an exclusive club.

For some, pro football wasn't all good. A half-dozen among the 49 polled noted knee injuries that have bothered them since retirement. One claims a broken left forearm; interferes with his golf swing. One had a head injury which led to traumatic epilepsy and is controlled by medication. "My god," exclaimed Alex Hawkins, erstwhile bon vivant, "I hurt everywhere."

"I played 20 years of football," said Buzz Nutter, a tobacco-chewing center of the 1950s, "and I never missed a practice or game because of injuries. I'm in good health now."

Invariably, the former players found that pro football was a positive experience. "As a man," said Elmer Wingate, a former end, "you developed an inner confidence that carries into your life's work. Adversity is usually short term because you have learned to make it so. Empathy for your fellow man is also a by-product."

"I feel it makes a difference in success and failure to have the ability to play hurt," said ex-linebacker Steve Stonebreaker. "In the business world it means being dependable and working when you really would rather be doing other things."

Half a dozen of the former players stressed the phrase, "opening the door," as a pro football residual, and Steve Myrha, who kicked the tying field goal in the 1958 sudden-death title game, added, "It's up to you once the door opens and the light goes on."

Wants Request to Fix Air Rates Denied

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration asked Congress today to deny a request that the Civil Aeronautics Board be empowered to fix international air rates.

Arguing against a key provision in a CAB-backed bill, and offering an administration plan as a substitute, Asst. Secretary of Transportation Charles D. Baker said:

"We believe that the board's authority should be limited to the suspension and disapproval of such international air rates and that it should not include the power to prescribe or fix such rates."

The powers contained in a House bill, Baker said in testimony prepared for the House transportation subcommittee, "are an extension of the board's domestic rate authority which we consider to be too wide-ranging for use on the international side, and not necessary."

Deputy Asst. Secretary of State Bert Rein agreed with Baker's views. The State Department, Rein said, is not persuaded that regulation should extend beyond the prevention of "uneconomic low rates or excessively high rates."

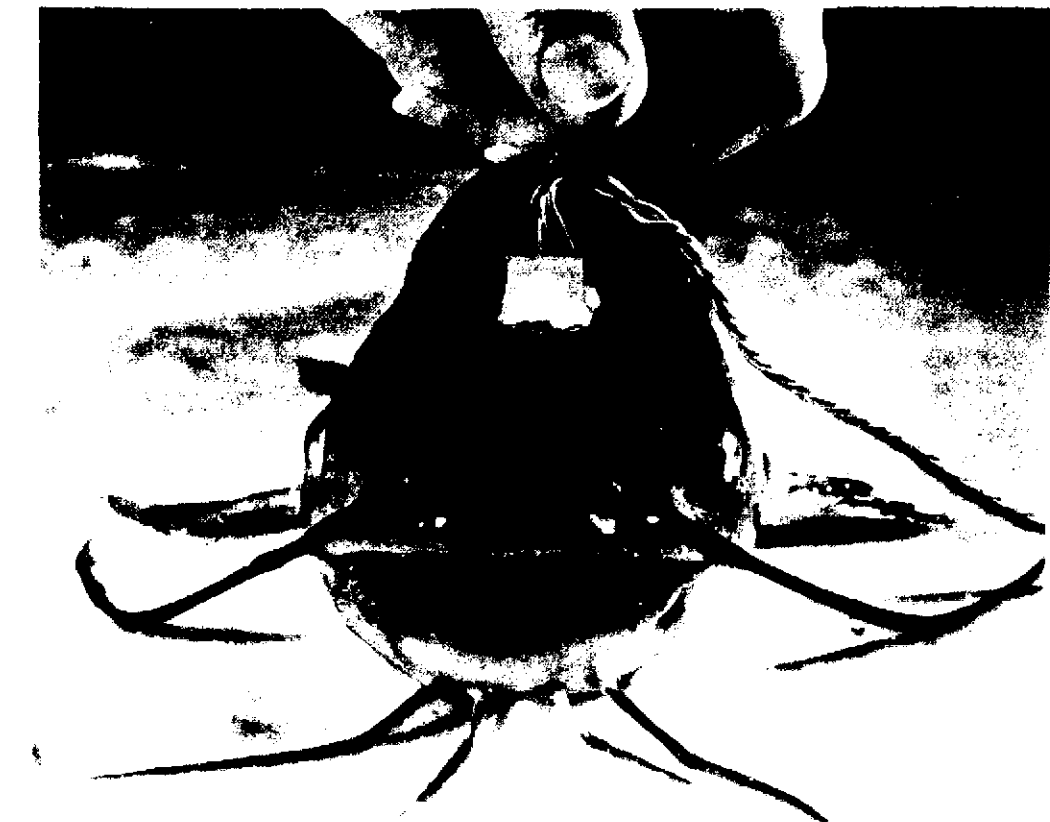

CB Chairman Secor D. Browne told the subcommittee Wednesday that Congress should "arm the U.S. government with the same power to regulate international air fares that foreign governments have."

A Senate Commerce subcommittee has approved legislation to let CAB suspend for up to a year and reject or cancel existing or proposed fares suggested by foreign airlines. But the Senate panel struck out a provision that would have let CAB set the fares. Major U.S. airlines have complained bitterly about suggested lower rates.

Little League Coaches Meet on Monday

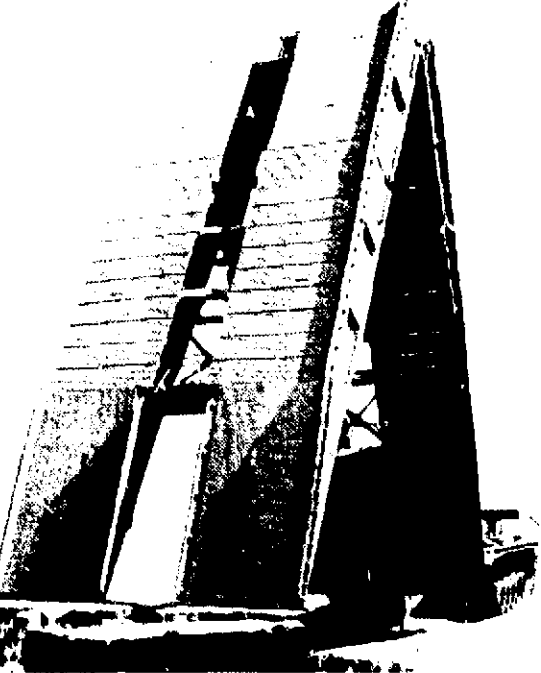

All coaches of teams organized through the Hope Parks & Recreation Department, (this is to include Pee Wee League and Little League football, Junior Olympic basketball, Doctors League, Little League, Babe Ruth League and Junior American Legion baseball, and the girls softball program) are asked to meet at the Hope Youth Center on Monday, November 22, at 7 p.m. at this time final plans for Awards Night will be made. Every team should have at least one coach present so each team will know the complete details of this new event.

Immediately following this meeting, all persons interested in coaching one of the eight Junior Olympic basketball teams will meet to organize for the up-coming season. Several teams will be needing coaches. For further information on any of the above, contact Paul Henley, Hope Parks & Recreation Director.

Bombers Hit Cong Supply Depots

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. bombers made their 77th strike of the year in North Vietnam Wednesday and hit North Vietnamese supply depots in the demilitarized zone for the sixth successive day, the U.S. Command reported today.

Four Air Force Phantom jets knocked out two antiaircraft guns that fired on them from the Ban Karai Pass, just inside North Vietnam and about 40 miles north of the DMZ, the command said.

The command said the Phantoms were on a bombing mission on the Laotian side of the border when they were fired on. None of the planes was hit, the command added.

A major American air campaign is under way around the Ban Karai and Mu Gia passes farther north to slow the movement of arms and ammunition to South Vietnam.

Meanwhile, half a dozen B52 heavy bombers dropped 180 tons of explosives on North Vietnamese depots in the southern half of the demilitarized zone. Once again the targets were at the western end of the zone near the Laotian border.

Only light ground action was reported across South Vietnam. But North Vietnamese and Viet Cong attacks continued in Cambodia.

The Cambodian command reported that enemy troops assaulted Phnom Baset, 14 miles northwest of Phnom Penh, killing five Cambodian soldiers and wounding three.

More than 5,000 Cambodian troops are taking part in an operation that seeks to drive Communist troops from the western outskirts of Phnom Penh. The drive entered its second week today.

More than 200 rockets and recoilless rifle shells hit the provincial capital of Prey Veng, 29 miles southeast of Phnom Penh, and two rockets were fired at the South Vietnamese river patrol base at Neak Luong, a mile away. A woman was killed at Neak Luong.

City Dwellers Face Each Other Only in Building Elevator

By C.C. MINICLIER

CAIRO (AP) — There you are, jammed into this little room with an undetermined number of strangers and the floor begins to move.

What do you do?

The problem faces countless millions of city dwellers several times a day as they ride elevators to or from their offices or homes, or in the elevators of total strangers.

Some stare at the floor, others the ceiling, others the little light indicating which floor one is passing.

It is a box you ride regularly there may be a familiar face or two to greet—or avoid.

If you are a stranger in the box you will be given the once-over by all, from your broken shoe lace to your slightly over-due hair cut and you'll get off at your floor with relief.

If you've not ridden this one before there are many things to do—ponder how children under the age of 12 will know not to ride it alone, as the instructions say, especially if they can't read yet, or see the instructions; count heads and compare the number with the posted load limit; compare your estimate of the combined weight of passengers with the posted legal limit.

Some elevators have built-in distractions.

BARBS

By PHIL PASTORET

The one thing that men know about women's clothes is that they keep them broke.

Alimony is the high cost of leaving.

(NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

some of the lovely glass-walled elevators which lift you ever so intimately up an open stairwell, giving each shudder a special feeling and offering the rider a chance to study the architecture and faces of those who missed the lift.

But few elevators are built with the rider's entertainment in mind.

Graffiti catches the eye in older elevators and offers the single rider an opportunity to add to the collection.

Most elevators simply offer you a place to stand, but not enough room to do anything in comfort.

You can easily spot those who have adapted to the ups and downs of riding in a little box suspended by a cable perhaps thinner than a woman's arm.

They pass the time appreciating the view of a shapely female passenger with less than modest pleasure; deftly lift a piece of french fry off the unsuspecting room service waiter's tray; tickle the chin of a howling baby or make jokes with the most appealing fellow traveller.

Less relaxed passengers stare at the floor, until they feel the wearer of the unpolished shoes they are staring at is staring back at them, then their eyes quickly shift to the lighting fixture or a suddenly fascinating fly buzzing overhead.

It would appear to be against the rules of box riding to look at anyone, except for a passing glance, but there are other things to do. Push the button for your floor again; look at your watch, listen to it, wind it; adjust your tie; count the coins in your pocket or scratch your chin.

A sudden jolt or a brief unexpected power failure shatters the ice amid the least congenial box full. They smile, joke and exchange greetings, happy as the journey resumes that they did not spend the next several hours together, in darkness.

Former Black Mayor Speaks to Students at SSC

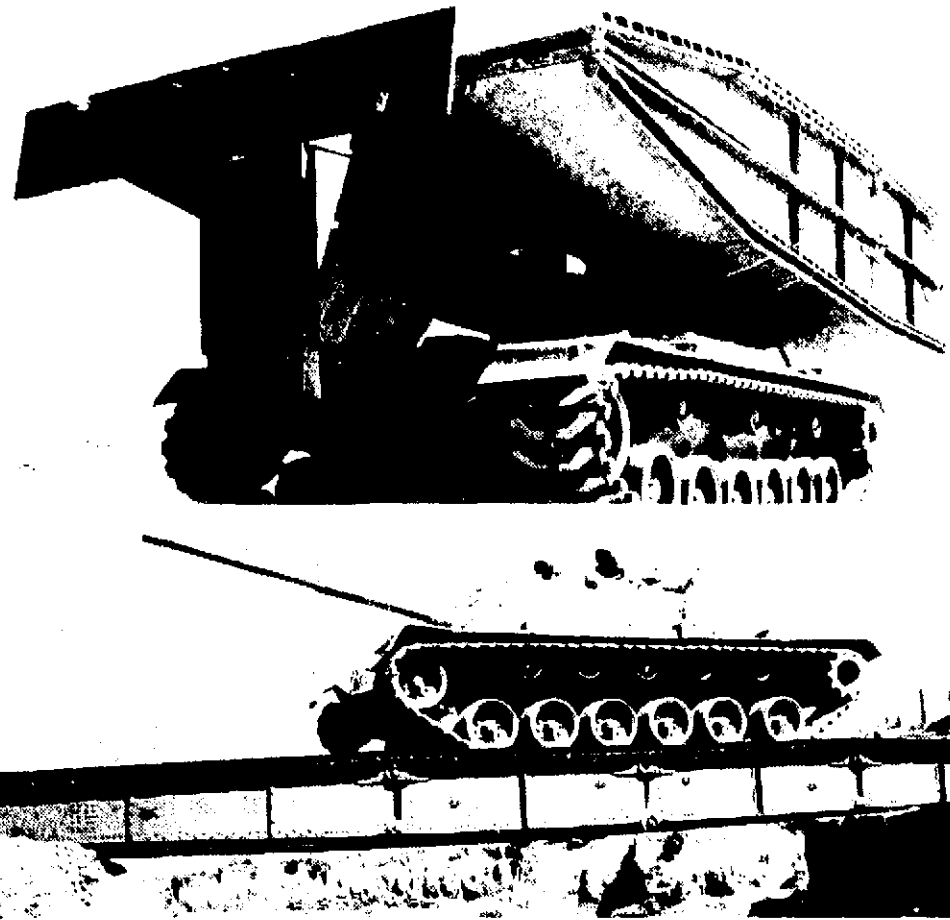

MAGNOLIA, Ark. (AP)—Carl Stokes, former black mayor of Cleveland, Ohio, said here Wednesday night that so long as the federal government is dominated by a farm-oriented legislature "the cities of America will continue to fester and decay."

Stokes, speaking to students at Southern State College, said by 1980 the nation's cities would be 80 per cent black and 90 per cent poor.

"We must do in America what we did in Europe after World War II," Stokes said. "We must rebuild New York, Chicago ... and other American cities just as we did Berlin and other European cities."

Stokes also said that President Nixon was withdrawing troops from Vietnam, "but he does not say that we are not withdrawing American money." He said so long as the government "continues to fund such wars, ridiculous farm subsidy programs and the space program as it exists today in the face of 50 million poor there will be no peace in the country."

Brothers Walk Around World for UNI-CEF

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) —

Two American brothers have left this last European outpost to continue their walk around the world in support of UNI-CEF—the United Nations Children's Fund.

David, 32, and John Kunst, 24, leading their mule "Willie-Make-It-Two" and their dog "Drifter," crossed into Asia Minor heading for the warm climate of southern Turkey before they proceed to Iran in the spring.

They have walked 5,000 miles in 16 months since they left home in Waseca, Minn., June 20, 1970. They went through Portugal, Spain, France, Italy, Yugoslavia and Bulgaria.

In Communist Bulgaria they passed through villages where huge posters showing bombs over the heads of women and children identified Americans as "U.S. assassins" and asked for "peace in Vietnam." They took all these calmly and continued with a smile their peaceful walking mission. David, father of three, said they really had no trouble anywhere.

During their two-week stay here they paid good-will visits to Istanbul's mayor and other notables. The Tourism Department gave them a small wagon which they will use to carry food, camping equipment and their many pairs of comfortable shoes. They have christened this vehicle "USA-Turk Machine."

The brothers estimate the whole trip should take about three years.

"If all goes well, and it will, we plan to be back home in the United States sometime in 1973," said John.

New Try to Dislodge Nominee

By JOHN CHADWICK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Another attempt will be made today to dislodge President Nixon's Supreme Court nomination from the Senate Judiciary Committee where a vote was blocked a week ago.

Committee approval of Asst. Atty. Gen. William H. Rehnquist and Richmond, Va., attorney Lewis F. Powell Jr. appear assured if their nominations can be brought to a vote.

But Sens. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., and Birch Bayh, D-Ind., were expected to resist a vote on Rehnquist's nomination, arguing that the record in his case is incomplete.

Kennedy said the committee's hearings on Rehnquist should be reopened, but Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., told a reporter he "can't imagine that happening."

A leader of liberal Democrats in the Senate, Hart declined to say how he will vote, but he said there is no question a majority of the committee and of the Senate support both nominations.

Hart added, however, the same was true at the time the committee approved Nixon's nominations of Judges Clement F. Haynsworth Jr. of South Carolina and G. Harrold Carswell of Florida for a prior vacancy on the court. The Senate later rejected both those nominations.

Little opposition has developed to Powell, a former president of the American Bar Association, and at the committee's meeting last week Bayh moved to report his nomination favorably to the Senate.

Senators supporting both nominations were unwilling to permit a vote on Powell's nomination unless Rehnquist's was acted on at the same time—a strategy they have given no signs of abandoning.

Thursday, November 18, 1971

"I'd oppose separating them," said Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, a member of the Judiciary Committee.

Situation in Cambodia Deteriorates

SAIGON (AP) — Official U.S. sources tonight described the military situation in Cambodia as deteriorating, and said American air support has been substantially increased.

The U.S. Command declined comment, but official sources outside the command said the Cambodians had been getting increased American air support for 10 days.

Dispatches from Cambodia have reported U.S. Cobra helicopter gunships are attacking enemy forces mounting a threat to Phnom Penh 10 miles west of the capital.

The disclosure came amid reports circulating in Saigon that the Cambodian government also had requested South Vietnamese infantry reinforcements to relieve pressure around Phnom Penh.

Sources said that the major increase in U.S. air support was in the form of tactical fighter-bomber strikes flown from bases in South Vietnam and Thailand.

U.S. rocket-firing helicopter gunships have been providing cover for Cambodian supply convoys moving along the Mekong River to Cambodia's capital and along Highway 1, the Saigon to Phnom Penh overland route.

"The situation is not good," said one source.

Fighting has been raging for a week on Phnom Penh's western outskirts, where the Cobra gunships have been in action. Two North Vietnamese and Viet Cong regiments are threatening Highway 4 and 5, both key supply arteries.

Says U.S. Will Have Black VP

LYNN, Mass. (AP) — Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., says it will not be long before a black is vice president of the United States and "1972 could be the year."

Brooke, who is black, said he has not been approached by President Nixon for the vice presidency, but if he were offered the spot, "as a Republican I would be honored."

Rep. Gerald Ford of Michigan, House minority leader, has mentioned Brooke as a possible running mate for Nixon in speeches in various parts of the country.

Brooke made his remarks at a news conference Saturday.

Ecology Discussed

MONROE SAMUEL

Tuesday's Kiwanis Club speaker was Monroe Samuel of the DeAnn Community. He was introduced by Kiwanian Art Trout who arranged the program.

Mr. Samuel is a Director of the National Association of Conservation Districts, and chose as his topic "Ecology and Environment". A concise and all inclusive definition of these terms is that they are "All Things That Provide For And Preserve Life".

Mr. Samuel stated that all over the United States there are improvements in the quality of life and the environment. Our farm woodlands are in good condition; good conservation practices have made possible better land usage; and the protection of our water sources has contributed to the overall improvement of our environment.

Many changes have taken place in the face of the United States and in Arkansas in particular. Mr. Samuel looked backward to the days of the depression of 1929 and the thirties, and reminded his listeners that along with the depression we suffered through dust storms, soil erosion, and careless use of our soil and water. We have come a long way from the conditions that existed in those days, but now we are concerned about air pollution. "The public, and that's us," said Mr. Samuel, "want clean air but more cars; clean water but more industries; and more parks and open spaces but more housing." Mr. Samuel closed his program with a group of slides made in Arkansas, the first of which showed beautiful flowers, shady woodlands, attractive parks, landscaped highways, and all the good things we enjoy. The next slides showed litter along the highways, junked cars just off the highways, dumping grounds in plain view, garbage strewn along the roads, and polluted streams. The contrast was quite revealing.

"If we are to make Arkansas and the United States the kind of place we want it to be, it is up to each of us as individuals to assume our personal responsibility in the matter of Ecology and Environment," said Mr. Samuel.

Visitors at Tuesday's meeting were Carl Hamilton of Hope and Dennis Kile of Shreveport. Byron Cunningham was introduced as the newest member of Hope Kiwanis Club.

Texas Official Says Arkansas Prison Improved

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A Texas prison official testified Wednesday that Arkansas prisons had improved in several areas during the last three years.

Dr. George Beto, director of the Texas prisons, testified in U.S. District Court here before Judge J. Smith Henley in a hearing on efforts of the Arkansas Department of Correction to comply with an order Henley issued requiring prison improvements to satisfy constitutional requirements. The hearing was to resume today.

Beto was the first witness for the state in a hearing that has contained primarily testimony of Cummins Prison Farm inmates alleging acts of brutality, types of deprivation and denial of due process.

Beto said he had toured the prisons in Arkansas in 1968 at the request of then-Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller and had seen Cummins and Tucker Intermediate Reformatory units again Wednesday.

The Texas official said that among the improvements were: — Increasing employed personnel at Cummins from nine to 110.

— Civilian, rather than inmate, control of convict records.

— Employed personnel, rather than inmates, in charge of convicts who work in the fields.

— Less idleness among inmates and higher morale.

Earlier in the day Leotis Johnson, a Cummins inmate, testified that he had seen four inmates, three of them handcuffed, forced to ride on the hood of a car, but that no one was hurt in the incident.

The incident developed as a result of an escape attempt by three persons, he said. The attempt was quelled, but some guards fired shots near inmates not participating in the escape, Johnson said.

Johnson said that he was ordered to maximum security after the incident and that his hair was shaved from his head by the chief security officer, Thomas Pirtle. Johnson said he had 10 stitches in his head from an earlier incident and that Pirtle disregarded his pleas to avoid running the clippers through the stitches.

The inmate testified that he spent six days without clothing or toilet paper in a "quiet cell."

He also said he did not see the disciplinary committee until the sixth day, never had been advised of his right to call a witness or have a lawyer before the disciplinary body and had appealed three disciplinary verdicts to the superintendent without getting any response.

While being taken to the maximum security unit the day of the attempted escape a prison employee named Fletcher "hit me in the stomach a few times" with his fist, Johnson said. He also said he had been hit on the head by a blackjack by an employee called Sgt. King.

An employee named Major Hawks on one occasion threw Johnson from a trailer and tossed a sack of cotton on to him, Johnson said.

Jimmy Rogers, serving a sentence for possession of stolen property, testified that he had seen an employee named Blasingame kick inmate George Capps.

Capps, 24, serving time for armed robbery in Pike County, also testified that Blasingame had kicked him.

New world of range top design features glass-ceramic cooking surfaces. Some units feature single rolled sheets that require special cooking utensils with flat ground bottoms. Unit shown has Cer-Vit range tops said to use conventional cooking utensils consisting of four rectangular panels. The material was developed by Owens-Illinois and first was used for three of the largest telescope mirrors in the world because of stability when exposed to temperature extremes.

Thinks Young America Can Defeat President

By ROBERT SHAW
Associated Press Writer
HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Lawrence F. O'Brien, Democratic national chairman, told the Young Democrats' national convention Wednesday night that young Americans had the "political muscle" to defeat President Nixon on election day and determine who should occupy the White House.

And Sen. Birch Bayh of Indiana, accusing Nixon of doing more than anyone to "turn off" young people in modern times, urged the delegates to mount a total effort behind the 1972 Democratic nominee. He said many youths sat out the 1968 election, allowing Nixon to win by a slim margin.

O'Brien said that with the enfranchisement of the 18-to-20 year olds there will be 25 million new voters next year. He said this gave them power "to determine who should direct this nation and its people toward the destiny you see for America."

"This is far more than the predictable rhetoric of a national party chairman — it is a simple demographic fact," O'Brien said. "You and your contemporaries now have the political muscle — the votes — to send Mr. Nixon back to Key Biscayne or San Clemente or Whittier or Park Avenue." O'Brien told the first general session of the convention that the delegates' decisions during their meeting would directly affect the outcome of the presidential elections.

But he said Democrats would have to offer the voters positive solutions to the nation's problems next year. He said the party could not succeed in 1972 "simply by being negative, being anti-Nixon, trying to back into the White House."

O'Brien said the President had failed, despite his promises, to provide leadership in solving the problems of law enforcement, unemployment, drug abuse, health care, civil rights and urban ills. Not only has Nixon failed, O'Brien said, he has consistently opposed initiatives of a Democratic Congress to solve them.

Delivering the keynote address from Washington via a telephone-loudspeaker hookup, Bayh said: "Our government is being run by an administration more out of tune with young thoughts, hopes, dreams and aspirations than any administration we can remember."

He said the administration, through the pronouncements of Vice President Spiro T. Agnew had divided the nation along generation lines.

Bayh, who bowed out as a 1972 presidential candidate because of the illness of his wife, said "far too many Americans, not just the young," were losing faith in the nation and Democratic processes.

Bayh was scheduled to appear in person, but was in Washington in anticipation of a vote Wednesday night on an amendment to the legislation that would limit campaign expenditures. The vote was not taken.

In his news conference, O'Brien expressed concern over the system of financing presidential campaigns. He said the nation was headed toward a "debacle" unless corrective actions were taken.

He said he favored ending private campaign contributions and creating a system by which citizens could contribute $1 to political parties on their income tax returns.

Gov. Dale Bumpers, welcoming the Young Democrats to Arkansas, said that public confidence in the federal government was at an all-time low. He said the nation should name leaders "who are driven to do what's right because it ought to be done."

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB You're Not Useless If You Have Asthma

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb — Would you be so kind and tell me if a doctor takes a blood test would it show up asthma or not? I am 48 years old, single and I worked at this place one-and-a-half weeks. They fired me because they told me I had asthma. It is a mild form.

I can work 12 or 14 hours a day. I use very little medicine as I hate to take pills. I never lose time from work. Please let me know.

Dear Reader — It takes more than a blood test to diagnose asthma. Usually, the patient's history is important or "wheezing" sounds in the lungs may be heard during examination or in long-standing cases some changes in the lungs may be observed by X ray.

Your problem brings up an interesting and neglected point. There is so much concern about minorities and their job opportunity and very little concern about the "right to work" for many people with a vast number of medical problems. All should have the right to achieve their maximum potential and make their maximum contribution to our society.

There are hundreds of people shelved because they have had a heart attack — yet many people go on after such an event to new heights in their career. Lyndon Johnson is a classical example. After his heart attack during his Senate days he became vice-president and president. President Eisenhower was another example. There are countless more.

The person afflicted with epilepsy is discriminated against in marriage, driving a car or in job opportunity. A drunk can drive but not a person with epilepsy.

There is a great unspoken ambivalence in our society about sickness. While there is concern on one level there is downright hostility and discrimination on other levels.

Having a sense of belonging and accomplishment is part of one's mental health. A job is more than just the money it generates.

In a time when there are too many people who are content to do nothing to contribute to their society your letter is refreshing. I would hope that you and other people who are barred from a "right to work" because of unfortunate medical problems will sometime soon be given the proper consideration you deserve from our society. That means opportunity, not a hand out.

(NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)
Please send your questions and comments to Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Lamb cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Hall of Fame President Named

LITTLE ROCK, AP — George Kell of Newport, former major league baseball player with the Detroit Tigers, was elected president Wednesday of the Arkansas Hall of Fame at a meeting of the Hall's Executive Committee.

Kell succeeds Jack Pickens of Little Rock who has served as president since the inception of the Hall in 1959.

White House Fleet to Add $9 Million Jet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Although the No. 1 jetliner in the White House fleet already has a look-alike sister ship, President Nixon wants an identical twin borne at a cost of more than $9 million to taxpayers.

The proposal, treated with such priority that it was included Wednesday in a supplemental budget request for the current fiscal year, would provide him a second top-of-the-line model from Boeing's 707 series.

In Seattle, a Boeing Co. spokesman said the plane could be ready by mid-1972, an election year in which Nixon's extensive travel routine is likely to expand. A presidential aide would say only that a delivery date is indefinite.

The new airship, a 707-320B, would replace a 13-year-old 707-120 which has seen considerable service as Nixon's chief backup plane, including his recent trips to Alaska and Key Biscayne, Fla., and adviser Henry Kissinger's second visit to Peking.

And it would match exactly the "Spirit of '76," the sleek, 9-year-old queen of the executive jet set at nearby Andrews Air Force Base. Although there is no difference in looks or luxury between it and the backup plane, the 707-320B has better range and can operate from shorter airstrips, according to Col. Ralph D. Albertazzie, the President's pilot.

"For example," said Albertazzie, "we got it into the Orange County, Calif., airport, and the backup couldn't have done that. We went into Tempelhof (Berlin) and Ronsaok, Va., and the backup couldn't have done that, either."

Albertazzie, who has flown Nixon into all 50 states and more than 250,000 miles, said he had not been aware the President was going to ask for the new plane, one of several items for which a total of $91.5 million is sought in new spending authority from Congress.

"But it is a longstanding requirement," he said. "It will give us true backup capability." At the moment, he added, the "Spirit '76" is the only 707-320B in the Air Force inventory.

Asked if he thought Nixon should have a jumbo jet, such as a Boeing 747 or a DC10, Albertazzie replied: "We've considered it. But the problem is one of ground support. Right now you can use a 707 at almost any airport in the world."
